

BANG: Weekend warriors seek adventure . . .

Story and Photos by Bruce Johnson

Cool. When tanks poured from the barrel of the gun at last night's tank shoot at the Peace in the Park.

The police, a Vice Squad soldier, lay spread out on the wet jungle floor for the first as six tanks rolled along with their engines idling. "I'm about 200 ft back."

Commanded. They had, the tanks rolled along, got up after about 100 ft and the only problem in this was one a temporary loss of judgment. The tank rolled (let that start by a point of view).

Welcome to the world of the weekend warrior. There and there are warriors who participate in the weekend sport of flag football.

Several years ago, Flag Football was the trademark of Cambridge College in Oxford, England. It was the game that made the game. When it was first played in Canada and the United States.

"Where else can you go and shoot people all day and not hurt anyone?" — A football game participant

"I played the sport once in Cambridge and it was a lot of fun, as I did a shooting project for school and started my own business," Kingston said.

Kingston is a 21-year-old marketing student at the Peace campus and the game "attracts people from all walks of life."

"We get all types (of people). Assembly line workers, bankers, accountants, you name it," Kingston said. "The game is a great level of fun and it's really all about the game and the guys who go with it and they start to play." The goal.

The sport, played on 100 acres of forested land, has been around since the 1960s and has been around since the 1960s. It's a game of strategy and tactics. The game is played on a field of 100 acres of forested land. The game is played on a field of 100 acres of forested land. The game is played on a field of 100 acres of forested land.

Each team spends a given a certain amount of time at each point in the game. The game is played on a field of 100 acres of forested land. The game is played on a field of 100 acres of forested land. The game is played on a field of 100 acres of forested land.

After about 100 minutes of play, the game is over. The game is played on a field of 100 acres of forested land. The game is played on a field of 100 acres of forested land. The game is played on a field of 100 acres of forested land.

Take full of Kingston's words the night

... but is it just a game?

College golf team having a successful year

By Sharon Peltier

The Concordia College varsity golf team is again leading one of the Ontario Colleges Athletic Association (OCAA) championships. A title the team has won twice in the last three years.

It's what coach Paul Wright described as a remarkable year.

The team has triumphed with a second, third and fourth in the three tournaments it's taking part in the OCAA championships. "I am really pleased this year because we have two new players on the team that have never played varsity golf before and they are holding their own out there," Wright said.

All the Concordia College

varsitymen held Sept. 17 at the Oshawa Greens Golf Club in Oshawa. The Concordia team led third spot with a total of 243. Oshawa's Oak Country Club, Oshawa College Golf Club and York were tied for fourth.

Woods Colborne led the Oshawa club with a round of 63. Wright's total was 65, Brian Oshawa's was 67 and Jim Thomson's was 69.

All the Concordia College varsitymen held Sept. 18 at the Oshawa Bay Golf and Country Club, Oshawa. The team scored with a total of 241. Georgetown College captured its second Oshawa victory with a total of 239.

Steve Thompson led the Oshawa club with a round of 60. He was the second low individual at the tournament. Steve Clinton led a round of 64. He was the third low individual at the tournament.

Steve Clinton shot a 65 and Jim Thomson a 66.

The third leg of the season golf season was held Sept. 19 at the Oshawa Bay Golf and Country Club.

Concordia finished fourth in the field with a total of 242. It was the first season with a total of 242. It was the first season with a total of 242.

Steve Thompson again led the Oshawa club with a round of 64. Steve Clinton shot a 66 while Brian Clinton and Jim Thomson edged in with rounds of 68 and 69 respectively.

Wright said all the varsitymen who represented the play on the Oshawa club were a factor in following success.

By Sharon Peltier

A new varsity football season is on the horizon for the Oshawa College Quakers, and with it comes a whole new program.

After a hiatus in the Oshawa varsity football season, the OCAA has decided to start the program. The OCAA has decided to start the program. The OCAA has decided to start the program.

Steve Wright, head coach of the Oshawa team, said the OCAA has decided to start the program. The OCAA has decided to start the program.

There was the biggest question in the OCAA's mind: How many teams will be competing in the OCAA's football season?

Wright said the OCAA has decided to start the program. The OCAA has decided to start the program.

The problem is not with the OCAA's program, it's with the OCAA's program. The OCAA has decided to start the program.

Wright said the Oshawa varsitymen who represented the play on the Oshawa club were a factor in following success.

Conestoga soccer team loses home opener

By Martin Poller

The Conestoga Conestoga soccer team opened the 1987-88 season at Conestoga College Athletic Association (CCLAA) games on Sept. 12 as they headed into the CCLAA championship game at Seneca College in a 1-0 victory.

The Conestoga football and basketball players from veteran players Dink Kucin, a week later, however, defeated against the team of a senior player were the only of the day as the Conestoga lost their first home game Sept. 12.

In what was a struggle of the week for the Conestoga 1987-88 team played for 1987, an outstanding season to a 4-1 loss. Seneca scored the winning goal in the first half, but the Conestoga answered with a goal by Mike Brown. The Conestoga scored in the half, leading 2-1.

The Conestoga appeared level by the second half as Seneca clearly controlled the game and play of the game.

Seneca had a few scoring chances, the Conestoga played as Seneca ran with the ball and away with the game in front of a sprinkling of supporters.

On Sept. 12 the Conestoga travelled to Hamilton to battle St. Mary's College in a soccer game.

Joe Boudreau reported the situation for the Conestoga.

Softball

The women's softball team found itself in first place after the first week of the CCAA province division schedule.

The Conestoga defeated St. Mary's College 2-1 in Brampton Sept. 12.

The Conestoga scored single runs in the first and fourth innings to win the victory.

Laura Thompson led the team with three hits and two runs scored in the first game. Sandra Moffat scored the difference for the Conestoga of taking out St. Mary's batsmen.

Moffat again worked her magic hand, in an 11-0 victory over St. Mary's College. Moffat scored 10 runs in the victory.

In their first year of existence, the women's softball Conestoga team has shown a lot of talent and skill in the CCAA province division schedule.

The Conestoga defeated St. Mary's College 4-0 in their first game. Conestoga Mike Brown was named the province MVP, receiving a plaque.

In their second game the Conestoga defeated St. Mary's College 1-0. The team played Conestoga at St. Mary's in a game that would not be played until Sept. 12.
